Sterre van der Waals was born in the Netherlands in 1995. Where she grew up in a creative family with four other siblings.

She was always fascinated by beauty and learned to express that fascination through photography. She first started her education in photography at the Academy of Arts Sint Joost in Breda, where she was taught about photography from a documentary point of view. She soon knew she wanted to develop herself more in the fashion genre and transferred to the Willem de Kooning Academy of Arts in Rotterdam. Where she combined what she had learned from both genres what resulted in photographing her critical view on society with a fashion twist.
